BUILDER DIES IN HINGHAM AUTO FIRE

Curt Schaefer, 45, of Gannet road, North Scituate, South Shore contractor, was found burned to death today in his blazing automobile in the woods off Union street, South Hingham.

When firemen and police arrived, surrounded by motorists who were coming out of the woods, the man's body was burned beyond recognition.

Police later heard their identification on the fact that it was Schaefer's automobile and that in a charred piece of clothing was part of a wallet which contained what looked like the man's automobile registration and license.

WATCH TIMES TRAGEDY

The car was found burning ten yards away from where Schaefer had been building a house.

His wife said he had left home at 8:45 this morning. From a watch bearing his initials, found on the floor of the car, police theorized that he died at about half past 8. While the face of the watch was burned, the hands had stopped at 9:20.

Medical Examiner John G. Sweeney and Police Chief Harold H. MacFarlane, said the victim might have been overcome by fumes from paint in the car and that a short circuit could have started the fire.

MYSTERY IN FIRE

Blue streaks on the motor, evidence of a short circuit, was pointed out by police.

In the front seat was found fragments of a rug believed to have contained an inflammable fluid, probably turpentine.

After a brief examination, the medical examiner stated he believed the man might have died of a heart attack when the car caught fire. He also revealed the ignition was on in the car.

While stating that he doubted if the exact cause of death could be determined, he said he would attempt a further examination.

MILTON GIRL FOUND DEAD IN AUTO

With her face and clothing blood spattered, Miss Olive M. Lawrence, 22, was found dead today in her father's car in the family garage, Antwerp street, East Milton.

Myasthenia features in connection with the death led to police investigation, particularly with a view to learning where the pretty brunette spent last evening, and with whom.

Fear Missing Girl Kidnaped, Slain For Revenge

By ARTHUR J. QUINN
Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent

Charmion, N. H., March 9.—Possibility that East Milton's lost "Babe in the Woods" was kidnaped and slain was seen here today by authorities.

This theory grew out of the story that Earl T. Brooks, father of the missing girl, three-year-old Shirley Brooks and one time University of New Hampshire track star, had been in the area of the garage where the car was found.

"There are persons who hate me enough to want to do me an injury through hurting my baby," the father told investigators.

And then he repeated a disclosure previously made to reporters—that he had been threatened, several times by men he had been forced to jail but year when he was in charge of a federal transient—or "trap"—camp at Keene.

Immediately afterwards, officials began a search of houses, barns and outbuildings of abandoned farms in the township of East Milton, rounded wells and searched for a body.

OTHER PREMISES COMBED

They also sought permission from about 50 residents to search their premises on the chance that the killer might have hidden the baby's body, unknown to the owners.

A careful examination was made to see if anyone recalled any incident in the past four days which might shed light on the mysterious disappearance of the tiny blonde and blue-eyed girl.

One of the men, himself, with his heartbroken wife, went through the buildings on the one farm, rounded the well and even started to tear down a 10-foot long pile.

Washington, March 9 (INS)—Confident of ultimate success, President Roosevelt today was prepared for a second radio appeal to the people for support of his program to infuse "new blood" on the United States Supreme Court.

The President will speak tonight from the White House over a national hookup in the first "Radio Hour" of his second administration.

Charles H. H. C. March 9 (AP)—Democratic Senator Farley today accused opponents of President Roosevelt's plan to change the Supreme Court of "straining at a gnat" rather than "swallowing a camel."

N. Y. MONEY MAY BACK FRENCH LOAN ABROAD

Paris, March 9 (AP)—A proposal by the French government that an unidentified New York bank handle the new national defense subscriptions in the United States has been dropped because of American objections, official sources said today.

"As far as we know, however, there is nothing to prevent Americans from buying through an American branch in Paris or through English banks," a government spokesman said.

Measures introduced in the Chamber of Deputies did not mention the interest rate or the amount of the loan, although discussion in parliamentary finance committees indicated 15,000,000 francs ($3,850,000) would be sought.

Since the government has agreed to the defense solely for extraordinary defense credits, passage of the bills are considered a certainty.

A $100,000 subscription to the defense loan was reported earlier to have been pledged by the Paris branch of an American bank after Premier Leon Blum's government asked passage of the bills authorizing the issuance of bonds which would be repayable in dollars and pounds, as well as francs, for the benefit of foreign investors.

New York Bankers Deny Loan Pledges

New York, March 9 (AP)—New York bankers were reported today by reports from Paris that a branch of an American bank had pledged $100,000 subscription to France's national defense loan.

Officers of the Guaranty Trust Co. and the National City Bank, said their Paris branches could not be the ones mentioned in the report.

There, said the principal Wall Street banking organizations with Paris branches.

Blasting Sales Tax Plan

Pointing to several baskets heaped with food, household staples and other merchandise—even including a baby's rattle—P. A. O'Connell, president of the Retail Trade Board, told the legislative committee on taxation today.

"That represents what could be bought with the money the average family with a $2000-a-year income would lose on a 3 per cent retail sales tax," O'Connell said.

O'Connell lifted a bag of potatoes, a bag of onions, a bag of eggs, articles of clothing, a frying pan, and other things, one by one. He shook the baby's rattle. Then he continued:

"The retail value of these things in Boston today totals $38.72. You particularly say to that average family: You must give up this bag of potatoes, or this bag of onions, or this bag of eggs, or this frying pan, or this baby's rattle. Then he continued:

SATES TAX HIT AS BURDENING MOST NEEDY

Pointing to several baskets heaped with food, household staples and other merchandise—even including a baby's rattle—P. A. O'Connell, president of the Retail Trade Board, told the legislative committee on taxation today.

"That represents what could be bought with the money the average family with a $2000-a-year income would lose on a 3 per cent retail sales tax," O'Connell said.

O'Connell lifted a bag of potatoes, a bag of onions, a bag of eggs, articles of clothing, a frying pan, and other things, one by one. He shook the baby's rattle. Then he continued:

Royal Bide Elect To Remain Here For Long Visit

Months, France, March 9. (AP)—Mrs. Wallis Simpson arrived at 5:30 p. m. today at furreted Chateau de Candé to join a gay house party and stay for an indefinite period in chateau-studded Touraine.

She drove up to the chateau in the front seat of a touring motor. At the wheel sat a man believed to be Herman L. Rogers, her American host.

At first the car swung into the wrong drive and nearly drove into the midst of a conventional garden. The car stopped with reversed wheels, and a crowd of women in the mud to enter the right highway.

Sweep Profusion

The Chateau de Candé, where American-born Mrs. Charles E. Rogers welcomed her guests, was decorated with thousands of flowers, the gift of the friends of the Duke of Windsor.

Residents in this little town, approximately 10 miles south of Tours, expressed hope the wedding of the duke and his fiancée would be celebrated in France. Mrs. Simpson's divorce does not become final April 27, she expressed.

Mrs. Rogers, the former Frances Lombard of Cleveland, O., was expected to receive Mrs. Simpson. Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Rogers, who accompanied Mrs. Simpson when she left their villa at Cannes.

Lengthy Visit

The American-born Mrs. Simpson had been a guest there since she left London at the height of the abdication crisis.

Chateau de Candé, near Tours, 10 miles south of Tours, is not far from Blois where Mrs. Simpson halted for a few days in June at a hotel the night of Dec. 1, when she fled to the Riviera.

Just to the west lies the famous remanence chateau of Anne-Elizabeth, once a summer home of Louis XIV and now a national museum.

The practice, indeed, of continuing roughly the former Province of Touraine, is rich in the architectural glories of another century.

Mrs. Simpson, the Rogers and an escort believed to include a French detective and a Scottish king operative, and from Cannes in two automobiles yesterday, just ended by 12 noon.

6-YEAR Love Plan TOLD

BY WOMAN IN DIVORCE PLEA

Salem, March 9.—An amusing explanation of a "six-year plan" on how to keep from feeling blue was read from a letter and crumpled five-letter, it probably court today as Mrs. Florence L. Filton of South Groveland won an uncontested divorce.

The letter, said Mrs. Filton was written to her husband by an infatuated young girl with whom she said, Stanley Filton, son of South Groveland, is now living, the petitioner explained to Judge Edward B. O'Brien, over her back and a flock of punches, but she kept it, and she kept it for two years.

The love letter was read in the court and the judge agreed to it was withheld. The letter was written by a very young South Groveland girl.

"Blue" Letter

"Read when feeling blue. When every day and on no matter how low and blue you may feel, please, my sweetheart, don't get discouraged, don't get discouraged. I love you, darling, and I know it's hard, because sometimes things look pretty dark. If you want to drink, remember that down here is someone who loves you and trusts you. Just keep your chin up for me, because I'm always dreaming of the happy days in the future and how happy we will be. I'm forever all yours."

"I loved it, my beloved. I want to remind you that if there is ever a time that I feel downhearted, that I shall never be untrue. I'm yours completely. No other person shall ever enter my mind, and we will pull together for the rest of our lives. I am yours forever, (signed) Stanley Filton."

Mrs. Filton said the court that she was married May 4, 1918 at Salem, N. H., and that things went smoothly enough until June, 1925. "My trouble started," she said, "my husband was going around with this young girl and we were having arguments about it. One day he took this letter out of his pocket and showed it to me."

Kept Letter

"He was trying to tease me. But I kept the letter. I wouldn't give it back to him. He wrestled with me and punched me. He blackened my eye and bruised my face. But I kept the letter."

"Not long afterwards the husband brought the girl home with him one day. Mrs. Filton continued, and she delivered an ultimatum, that day."

"I told him he'd have to choose between me and our three children and that girl," she said. "He chose the girl. Then we separated."

"I'm living with her now."

Formerly Mrs. Filton, a 34-year-old high school graduate of the couple, said after her mother's testimony, she decided.

"I spoke to my father many times about that girl. I told him everyone was talking about her and him and that it made us look foolish. But he wouldn't pay any attention to me."

Julia O'Brien, after hearing other instances of alleged cruelty, awarded Mrs. Filton her divorce, custody of the three children and $12 a week for the children's support.

2 Young Married Pairs Plan to Live Together

They'll Wed on Sunday

Girl to Marry Man She Used to Dislike

Can two newly married couples live as happily as one?

In Reading, just west, two pairs of honeymooners will start trying to join they can.

And one of the brides is also going to try to prove she can be happily married to the youth she once hated in school days—because, as a boy, he loved her.

The parents of the youths were quite surprised. They learned about a contemplated elopement—two elopements, in fact—and they stepped in and plotted things their own way.

The couple tried to file intentions at Nashua, N. H., but found they had to wait and after that the news leaked out.

Rev. Daniel D. Cole of the Old South Methodist Church, Reading, will officiate.

The couples will live together in an apartment already engaged in Reading. That is their plan, not the plan of their parents. Struss and Wicker are newsmen in an air-conditioning concern.

DUCE TO FORM LYMAN WIDENS NEW CHAMBER DENTAL PROBE

Rome, March 9 (US)—On the eve of his departure on an inspection tour of Libya, Premier Mussolini took another step toward abolition of the chamber of deputies, Italy's last vestige of parliamentary government.

He presided at a meeting of the Fascist grand council which designated Count Ciano, president of the chamber and father of Mussolini's foreign minister son-in-law, to make recommendations on formation of a corporate Fascist chamber.

Count Ciano said he could have the plan ready within two months. The move was considered here of far-reaching importance to development of Fascism toward Mussolini's ideal of a corporate state.

The new chamber will include elected delegates from labor, industry, the arts and agriculture.

According to Mussolini this would create a democracy not like that in the United States, France or Britain, but a "true democracy."

Count Ciano said he could have the plan ready within two months. The move was considered here of far-reaching importance to development of Fascism toward Mussolini's ideal of a corporate state.

Cambridge Police Head Raps Beano At Hearing

Charges and police joined today in denouncing "Beano" games as a "racket" at a hearing before the legislative committee on legal affairs at the State House concerning repeal of the "beano" law.

Sponsoring the campaign for repeal are the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, Episcopal bishop of eastern Massachusetts, and Representative Clarence Llewellyn of Newton.

CHIEF LEADY HITS LAW
Assailing the law at the hearing today was Police Chief Timothy J. Leahy of Cambridge, whose beano games have long been a subject of controversy.

"When beano first came to Cambridge it was run in a legitimate manner, but within a short time the racket boys snatched it and then it became a racket," Leahy said.

Questioned by a member of the legislative committee, Leahy would withdraw his support for repeal of the law if police in Cambridge were given complete jurisdiction over beano games, Chief Leahy answered.

"The law should go off the books regardless of any so-called charitable societies," Leahy said.

Representative Llewellyn said he was representing Henry Sherrill and told the committee.

"It's nothing but a racket. People are taken for plenty of money," Leahy said.

Also attacking the law was Charles A. Redden, head of the Union and Work Society in New England.

the 1970s, the 1980s, and the 1990s. The 1970s saw the emergence of the "New Wave" of American poetry, which was characterized by a focus on the individual and the personal. The 1980s saw the rise of the "Postmodern" movement, which was characterized by a focus on the social and the political. The 1990s saw the rise of the "New Criticism," which was characterized by a focus on the formal and the technical.

Wall St. Hears

New York, March 9 (U.S.)—T. A. Kennedy & Holdens (MCK) is expected to show net of about $1 million in share for 1936, $2.4 cents in price.

That another "sweet" dividend will be voted by Pacific Gas & Electric for its tomorrow's meeting. That first quarterly earnings report MCK 1936 may be about above the $1 cents a share in the 1936 period.

MOTOR OUTLOOK

Clouded By STRIKE News

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW
Forecasters who said 1937 was to be a year of strikes were dealt a blow when steel so successfully disposed of its troubles but the latest outbreak in the motor industry indicates they were not far wrong.

At the same time the threat of labor trouble in both the cotton and woolen textile industries is growing every day, especially in the New England area.

For the present, however, the outlook for the motor industry looks bright. It will continue to recover from its slump. Heavy imports and export trade have been a factor in the industry's recovery. The steel industry is making up in time for the spring season. A quick estimate shows that the motor industry is making up for the winter loss of business.

Notable: Those who doubt the New York Central's ability to take full advantage of its recovery in heavy industry are referred back to 1935 earnings of $1.48 per share. The steel industry is making up in time for the spring season. A quick estimate shows that the motor industry is making up for the winter loss of business.

Minute Analysis: Union Carbide & Carbon is looking on with favor in a paper investment. The company completed the first of its Savannah plant last fall and the second is well under way. It is expected to be in full production by September.

Industrial Rayon Corporation is expected to be divided in 200,000 shares on April 1 to stock of record March 31.

By Charles Kingsley

Do you like stories of the sea? Then follow the adventures of this band of gay young adventurers who set sail from England on a fanciful quest to the Spanish Main. They were part of the kind of national saga that sent men like Drake, Raleigh, Hawkins, Grenville and their compatriots to wreck the world-empire of Spain. Here is an impassioned narrative of high achievement, culminating in the overthrow of the Spanish Armada.

'Dionnes of Dogdom' Face Parting of Ways

Mrs. William Erb, of Fulton road, Egypt, with Patsy, an Irish setter and her litter of 16 puppies. That the "Dionnes of Dogdom" survive it, even though they were sired by champion Timmy Tulliver and dammed by Rockingham Patsy Low, is unusual in dogdom.

Better Radio, Lighting Sought for Air Safety

Special to Boston Evening American

New York, March 9.—Following the launching of an 11-point program for air safety growing out of the recent safety conferences held in Washington, the Bureau of Air Commerce and the airlines are planning co-operative studies and efforts on a number of additional points.

Immediate steps are being taken in the field of improved radio installations, establishing powerful approach lights at airports and other emergency matters.

But going beyond this the bureau program calls for co-operative studies on:

1.—Improved and more adequate storm aids and weather reporting systems. The needs of the airlines in this regard are being definitely to the Bureau of Air Commerce, and as fast as funds become available the program will be carried out.

Modernizing ground and plane radio equipment. To be of maximum value, radio must be equally balanced.

2.—Federal ground directional finding for emergency use. This is the system used in Europe, but is not considered practical for domestic use. However, its value in an emergency will not be overestimated.

On "Blind" Approach
Landing approach system. There are now so many systems to enable a pilot to fly blind right up to an airport and under-stand a landing, that before any system can be installed by the Bureau of Air Commerce there must be complete agreement on the part of potential users of such a device.

3.—Pilot training and condition. Greater study must be given to physical condition and reactions.

4.—Three-wheel undercarriage and steeper glide path aircraft designs. Because the three-wheel undercarriage, sponsored by the Bureau of Air Commerce, is being phased out, it is being considered the landing of aircraft and because it increases safety, more studies will be made looking into incorporating this design in new aircraft.

5.—Pilot training and condition. Greater study must be given to physical condition and reactions.

Irish Setter Family Of 18 to Part

The "Dionnes of Dogdom" are going to break up. 20, there has been an unfortunate tragedy in the kennel of "Rockingham Patsy Low" and her record-breaking litter of 16 Irish setter puppies.

It's just that 18 are quite a responsibility. Patsy has done her very best, which is very good, for the litter over a 10-month period. And now each is going out in the world and make its own way in some cases here and there.

This unfortunate family which came to the home with Mr. and Mrs. William Erb, on Fulton road, Egypt, is going the way of the four.

Some of these children of Champion Timmy Tulliver and Rockingham Patsy Low will travel to the west coast where their parents have been requested by a number of dog-lovers who have put in early bids.

Others will find homes in various sections of the country. It will be a sad parting for the 16 little red brothers and sisters. There has been a happy life, with 16 puppies of milk a day and seven hours sleep a week.

Some of these children of Champion Timmy Tulliver and Rockingham Patsy Low will travel to the west coast where their parents have been requested by a number of dog-lovers who have put in early bids.

Others will find homes in various sections of the country. It will be a sad parting for the 16 little red brothers and sisters. There has been a happy life, with 16 puppies of milk a day and seven hours sleep a week.

The "Dionnes of Dogdom" are going to break up. 20, there has been an unfortunate tragedy in the kennel of "Rockingham Patsy Low" and her record-breaking litter of 16 Irish setter puppies.

It's just that 18 are quite a responsibility. Patsy has done her very best, which is very good, for the litter over a 10-month period. And now each is going out in the world and make its own way in some cases here and there.

This unfortunate family which came to the home with Mr. and Mrs. William Erb, on Fulton road, Egypt, is going the way of the four.

Senator Borah's Notable Career in Senate

SENATOR WILLIAM E. BORAH of Idaho has completed thirty years of distinguished service as a member of the United States Senate.

The nation, having greater need of his counsel than ever before, is fortunate that the wealth of his wisdom and experience is still available.

At his own wish, the anniversary has not been an occasion for laudatory reminiscences.

"What's past is past," he insists. "My mind is not on what has been, but what's ahead."

But the significance of the occasion does not escape the nation.

Under seven Presidents, Mr. Borah has fought to preserve the integrity of his country and its institutions.

His greatest victory was achieved in sparing America from entanglement in foreign alliances which would have imposed the certainty of war upon our people.

He starts his 31st year with another great battle ahead of him, to preserve the constitutional authority of American courts.

THE people, confronted by a destructive crusade against the most vital of their institutions, need the courage, patriotic leadership Senator Borah gave them in other hours of need.

Mr. Borah will give that leadership. Older in years, the strength of spirit and the indomitable courage of a patriot are undiminished in him.

Thoughtful Americans are grateful that William E. Borah remains in the Senate, ready to fight for the interests of his country as he has always fought.

$40,000,000 More Taxes?

A JOINT committee of the Massachusetts Legislature today considers a scheme to make the people pay forty million dollars MORE taxes annually.

The scheme calls for a two per cent tax on all retail sales, or, more properly, on whatever one eats, wears or buys for his personal comfort or enjoyment.

It was inspired by the gasoline levy that gouged motorists so successfully last year that the Legislature is now thinking even ways to spend a seven-million-dollar "surplus."

The scheme is that the forty million that will be raised will relieve the burden on property.

But will it? Are not real estate owners buyers of food, clothing and the ordinary "luxuries"?

And if rent-payers cannot pay with prices at their present level, how will they be able to pay when prices go still higher?

Such questions answer themselves. They are self-explanatory.

She Preached Father Ahern

A Sermon Warns Us

MRS. RUTH FOX, Malden's famed Baptist Church organist, preached Sunday's most eloquent sermon. She used neither pulpit nor book—only a keyboard.

When a boy shouted that the church was safe and the congregation frightened, rose in panic, Mrs. Fox continued her playing.

To rush to the altar or to heed the sweet music from the choir loft was then an anxious pause. Each mind weighed the voice.

And then, as though by miracle, Mrs. Fox's courage ran.

The tumult subsided. One of our worshippers slipped from the auditorium. Young assisted the aged and infirm. No one was injured.

Still Mrs. Fox played. Though music poured in and flames licked the rafters, she played.

Someone might have been left behind. She could have stopped. BUT SHE WOULDN'T TAKE CHANCES WITH HUMAN LIFE.

That was her sermon, a sermon no man ever preached. It was of such persons as the that Kipling wrote, "If you can keep your head when all about you are losing theirs."

The Human Side of the News

By Edwin C. Hill

It is the largest sum of money ever received and turned over to the state for the purpose of relieving the poor.

It is the one who will have to pay the bill for the state's relief of the poor.
